SAVINGS TO TAXPAYERS ARE CITED

Accomplishments Are Reviewed at Dinner

ROLISON TALKS

Occasion is Annual Meeting of Former Freeholders

Redwood City taxpayers were saved approximately $30,000 through the 20-cent reduction in city rates last year.

Consumers of water from the publicly owned system will also be saved about $20,000 through a reduction in water rates, just made effective.

These were two of the high spots in a review of accomplishments made under the city charter by City Manager E. A. Rolison, speaking at the annual dinner meeting of the former freeholders who wrote the charter, Wednesday night.

The dinner was held in the Del Monte Hotel on Main street, and was attended by the ex-freeholders and their guests. Mark Ryan, who was chairman of the freeholders, presided, and A. S. Liguori made the arrangements.

Other speakers included Paul McCarthy, Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn and Charles G. Lambert.

Mrs. J. D. Hedge, head of the sewing unit for the Red Cross, thanked the fire department for its valuable co-operation in distributing and caring for clothing produced by the Red Cross chapter.

City Manager Rolison's remarks follow, in part:

"In keeping with past practice it seems appropriate at these annual meetings to review our accomplishments for the past year and propose new developments for the future.

"As an emergency measure, last year our tax rate was reduced from $1.30 to $1.10 and in addition to this assessed valuations were also substantially reduced on a large portion of Main street and Broadway property. This tax reduction was far in excess of that accomplished by any city on the peninsula or in this immediate vicinity.

"To make this reduction in the tax rate possible, all city employes voluntarily signed a waiver whereby a portion of their salaries were diverted into the general fund for tax reduction purposes. This voluntary reduction brought the salaries of local city officials in most cases considerably below the prevailing schedules of adjacent cities. In addition to this, all expenditures of every nature during the past year have been curtailed wherever possible.

Warning Sounded

"In presenting the 1932-33 budget representing a 20-cent tax eeduction as above outlined, attention was called to the fact that this drastic reduction was strictly an emergency measure of a temporary nature and that 'an increase in the tax rate for the purpose of providing the necessary funds for the 1933-34 budget was inevitable.' This statement was made for the reason that it must be recognized that the elimination of expenditures for such items as deferred maintenance and replacements are accumulative and cannot go on indefinitely without ultimately resulting in gross extravagances.

"In addition to the above, in order to further lighten the burden on our citizens and taxpayers, a reduction of approximately 20 per cent has been made in rates for water supplied by our publicly owned water system. These rates are substantially lower than any other water rates on the peninsula.

Seek Way Out

"However, in the face of the above prediction made a year ago and in the face of recent state legislation placing a 60-day moratorium on the second installment of taxes, an effort is being made to find some way by which the present tax rate may be maintained without permitting the depreciation of city property for want of maintenance and repair and at the same time provide those governmental services that the public have learned to expect and demand of the city and which in the present state of our civilization seem to be an absolute necessity.

"In spite of these drastic reductions in both taxes and water rates much in the way of civic betterment has been accomplished during the past annual period.

"Approximately $7,500 of county relief bond money has been spent

Many Mourn At Graveside Of Pioneer

William W. Byrne is Laid to Rest at Menlo Park

Hundreds stood at the grave of William W. Byrne in Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, last Wednesday to see all that was mortal of this pioneer of Woodside descend to its last resting place.

Boyhood friends, with uncovered heads, paid their last respects to one they loved in life and honored in death. As the grave closed over the deceased, who was known throughout the county for his kindness and who was respected by everyone who knew him, those life long schoolmates and friends drew away with the cherished thought that William Byrne would live long in memory.

All the old pioneers in this community, some of whom knew his father and mother were there to attest their friendship. Not in years was there such a large gathering of pioneers to watch an old citizen laid away.

William Byrne was born at Woodside 65 years ago. He grew to manhood there and there spent his long life as a farmer and contractor. He was the son of the late Michael and Bridget Byrne, who came to San Mateo county in the late sixties. They were highly respected, doing their share in developing the community.

Young Byrne after leaving school started farming in his beloved Woodside, or rather Canada. Here he built a cosy home upon his estate, where his friends found a warmth of welcome, such as no other man could give. William Byrne was known for his hospitality. No one ever left his home hungry or in want. He loved his friends and they loved him. In fact to know him was to love and admire him.

He is survived by his widow, Mary E. Byrne; and a sister, Mrs. Mary A. Fox. He also leaves two nephews, Harrison and Charles Fox; and two nieces, Marcella Fox and Mrs. Harry Mortola. He was a brother of the late Michael Charles Byrne, who passed away at Woodside two months ago.

The Times-Gagette correspondent has contributed the following:

It is as if one of the chapters of Woodside's interesting history closed Monday afternoon with the passing of William W. Byrne. Death claimed this well known pioneer resident at his family residence on the Canada road after an illness which had confined him to his home for several months.

Mrs. Byrne, who was affectionately known the length and breadth of the county as "Bill," had been a particularly successful farmer of this vicinity all his life, and was also always actively interested in civic affairs, having served on the county grand jury.

The deceased was the son of the late Michael and Bridget Byrne, who came from Ireland to this county in 1857, and established the family home at its present location in 1862 and, as were the other children, William Byrne was borne in the house which has been a local landmark on March 6, 1868.

The family attended the old St. Dennis church and went to school at Woodside.

Mr. Byrne chose for his bride Mamie Shine, a teacher in the schools of the county and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shine, pioneers of Searsville. The two have made their home at the Byrne ranch ever since. Several years ago they removed from the original house into a new home adjoining.

FLOOD CASE REVERSAL ORDERED

State Supreme Court Holds Directed Verdict Error

SIX-YEAR BATTLE

Another Opportunity For 'Daughter's' Share Seen

The state supreme court Tuesday granted Mrs. Constance May Gavin of Los Angeles a new trial in her attempts to prove that James L. Flood of Menlo Park was her father. This reverses former Superior Judge George H. Buck.

This is a vital step in the six-year battle by Mrs. Gavin to prove her paternity and, if successful, to share in the $9,000,000 Flood fortune.

Judge Buck cut her off temporarily from that fortune two years ago when in August, 1931, he directed the verdict against her, causing the jurors to revolt and making necessary the barring of the courtroom to an unruly mob of spectators.

What Ruling Said

The highest court of the state, to which the case was carried by Attorney John J. Taaffe and Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, who were then associated as Mrs. Gavin's attorneys, ruled as follows, the Associated Press reported:

"The sole question presented to this court is whether the case should be submitted to the jury. In our opinion the court erred in directing the verdict and the judgment ought to be reversed.

"The controversy centers about three elements: paternity, public acknowledgement, and the knowledge of Mrs. Flood of the illegitimate daughter.

"Under the undisputed evidence introduced and guided by sections of the California court in previous decisions by this and other high courts the act and declaration of Flood and his first wife, Rose, are competent to prove the paternity of the petitioner.

"On the question, the jurors should have been permitted to determine the affect of the acts and declarations attributed to the principals by testimony."

Evidence Cited

The decision pointed out that the evidence produced showed that on numerous occasions both Flood and his wife referred to the child as "Baby Flood" and as "Sunshine," and that Flood referred to her as his daughter.

"The evidence of public acknowledgment falls well within the rules laid down in other cases decided by this court," the decision concluded.

"We have concluded that there was competent evidence in support of the elements of legitimacy to necessitate the submission of the case to the jury."

The court, "for the guidance of a trial court in the event of a new trial," ruled that the testimoney of the Fritz family, relatives of both Flood wives, which had been excluded, should have been admitted as evidence.

Theodore Roche, attorney for the Flood estate, after reading the decision, delayed any expression of opinion.

Justice Langdon wrote the opinion, and the six other justices concurred.

Comments Withheld

Principals most involved were either overjoyed at the news or chose to be silent. Superior Judge McNutt, who formerly was counsel for Mrs. Gavin and who succeeded Judge Buck on the bench, was en route to Sacramento when the news came through.

Superior Judge Franklin Swart, who was of counsel for the Floods, was informed by a note handed to him while he was presiding over a jury trial and was not in a position to comment.

Former Judge Buck, notified at his home here, declined to make a statement. Inquiries at the Flood home brought the statement that any remarks must come from Attorney Garret McEnerney, chief of counsel.

It is not known here how soon the retrial can be arranged. It may be some weeks or months before a calendar can be cleared. The previous trial in 1931 took three solid weeks.

Both Judges McNutt and Swart will be barred from presiding at the new trial as both were participants in the former case. An outsider selected by the judicial council and acceptable to both sides must be named.

Judge McNutt may preside temporarily until the new trial is set.

Flood died on February 15, 1926, and Mrs. Gavin's battle was opened in April, 1927.

Harbor Hearing In Washington On April 24th

Coast Road Fund Voted By County

$22,312 Raised Five Years Ago Placed To Its Credit

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Monday voted $22,312 toward the credit of Joint Highway District No. 9.

If the directors buy the Pedro Point site, the board agreed to put up $72,000—the entire sum now on hand.

The $22,312 had been held in the highway fund for the past five years since it was levied in the fiscal year 1928-29. It was raised by a 5-cent per $100 levy at that time.

Subsequent levies have brought the fund up to $72,000, but expect for $600, San Mateo county had not borne its share of the highway district's expenses so far, it is stated.

Chairman Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay spokesman and San Mateo county director on the highway board, said that this fact has caused the other directors, George Ley of Santa Cruz and Andrew Gallagher of San Francisco, to charge "bad faith" to the peninsulans.

Francis came back late Monday from a San Francisco meeting of the directors and made a final urgent appeal to his colleagues to vote the $22,312—which is the county's first payment—to the credit of the district.

This step, he said, might avert abandonment of the Pedro Point right of way.

W. H. Morrissey, Redwood City attorney, who was speaking on behalf of county civic clubs, likewise made an appeal for the funds.

"The courts have set the price and now is the time to acquire the right of way," Morrissey said.

George Dunn, Half Moon Bay publisher, likewise appealed to the board for the funds.

District Attorney Edmund Scott advised the board that the county as a member of the district was legally bound to meet its share of the costs and could not back down.

RINGS ARE STRIPPED BY THUGS

Hot Needles Forced Under Victim's Fingernails

BLOWS STRUCK

Mrs. Bernice Feeney, Of San Mateo, Is Victim

Robbed of four diamond rings by three bandits who tortured her with hot needles and who cut her face and body with blows from their fists, Mrs. Bernice M. Feeney, 40, of 515 Occidental avenue, San Mateo, San Francisco and peninsula society woman, was in the Mills Memorial Hospital, San Mateo, yesterday.

The rings were valued at $7000, Mrs. Feeney told Officer Robert O'Brien of the San Mateo force, who investigated the holdup.

The society woman was driving south on the Bayshore highway and had just passed the Broadway, Burlingame, intersection, when her automobile was forced to the side of the road by the thugs' car. The bandits ran into her car and damaged it in forcing her against the guard rail on the highway.

As the three men alighted, Mrs. Feeney tossed them her purse, hoping to keep them away so they would not see her rings. They knew, however, that she had the the rings, a fact which caused police to believe they had "spotted" Mrs. Feeney at the San Francisco horse show last night.

Mrs. Feeney struggled with the men to prevent them from taking the rings. She clenched her fists and refused to open her hands so the rings could be removed.

At this stage, one of the men produced a package of needles and the other a box of matches. They heated the needles and forced open Mrs. Feeney's hands. The hot needles were pushed under her fingernails to add to the torture.

Blows were also rained on Mrs. Feeney until she relented and gave up the gems.

Her wrist watch, grasped from her hand, was later found on the floor of the car. The strap was broken.

Police also found the burned matches and the needles on the running board of the car.

The three men then fled south in a green-colored roadster with tan top.

Mrs. Feeney described her assailants as "Mexicans or Spaniards," and said the driver looked "like a sailor." She did not get the license number of the car, but told police it might have been 1-K-608 or 6-K-60-80.

Mrs. Feeney then returned to her home. The holdup took place about midnight, and was reported to police at 4 a. m.

Dr. George W. Sevenman ordered Mrs. Feeney to the Mills Hospital for observation.

Land Owners Ask Planning Protection

Requests forearly completion of the "land use" plan for southern San Mateo county were receiving the attention today of the San Mateo County Planning Commission.

A delegation of property owners from East Palo Alto called upon the planners here yesterday afternoon to urge that the plan be put into effect as early as possible so that their holdings may be protected.

Two cows per acre in the residential-agricultural district was one limitation suggested by the East Palo Altans.

The planners approved a permit for a restaurant on the south side of the Boyshore highway near the southern county line. This building is set to be back 15 feet from the right of way line and 15 feet from each side of lot line. The permit was granted on motion of Z. T. Thorning, seconded by Alvin Hatch.

S. H. Wiegel, engineer residing at 600 Joan street, Oakland, presented a tentative map of Granda Plaza, near Half Moon Bay.

Inasmush as the lot sizes were but 25 feet, the commission asked Mr. Wiegel to present a formal request for an exception to the subdivision ordinance rules.

Action on the map will not be taken until the planners inspect the site.

LITIGATION COSTS FOR ROAD ASKED

Ocean Shore People Sue Joint Highway District

FATE IS IN DOUBT

Directors Balk at Price; Gallagher Walks Out

The Ocean Shore Railroad Company and the McNee Company, owners of the 5.2 miles of right of way on the coastside which the directors of Joint Highway District No. 9 sought for the Ocean Shore highway, today sued the district for the costs of litigation and attorneys' fees.

Action of the land owners follows a final refusal late Wednesday by the highway directors in San Francisco to pay the $112,000 price set by the courts for the 5.2 mile stretch.

Director Andrew Gallagher of San Francisco, chairman of the highway board, bolted the meeting as Attorney Heim Goldman of San Mateo made a final plea that the $112,000 price be accepted.

"You can urge that until you are cross-eyed," Gallagher retorted. "I'm sick of it; it's getting to be like a cancer to get rid of," he said.

Director Quits Room

Then suddenly leaving the chair, Gallagher burst from the room with the saying: "I'm leaving before I lose my temper."

An astonished gathering of San Mateo, San Francisco and Santa Cruz citizens looked on Gallagher as he passed through the doors.

Director George Ley of Santa Cruz then took the chair, and said he agreed with Gallagher that the $112,000 price was too high.

Both Gallagher and Ley said they would consider buying the Pedro Point strip as soon as the owners "come to their senses."

Clyde Healy, San Francisco engineer on the highway board, urged the directors to get started on the Pedro Point project. He said that it would be difficult to further "sell" the project to the San Francisco board if the work is started in Santa Cruz county.

S. F. Needs Outlet

Healy explained that San Francisco supervisors were willing to help build the roads outside San Francisco because they were so necessary to San Francisco for outlets.

He said, however, this argument would not hold if work on the coast road is begun in Santa Cruz county.

Manuel Francis, San Mateo county member of the board, said that he believed the first work should be started in San Mateo county and that he would not consent to starting work in Santa Cruz county without approval by the peninsula board.

Goldman, not yet discouraged, said that he would try to arrange with the Ocean Shore interests to accept a lower price, now that the court order fixing the $112,000 price has lapsed.

In their suit here, the Ocean Shore and McNee interests declare the money ordered to be paid by the courts has not been paid.

They ask "costs, expenses and attorneys fees."

Case Up May 1

The motion to dismiss will be heard by Superior Judge Franklin Swart on May 1 at 10 o'clock.

In the meantime, while it looks as if the Pedro Point sector is doomed to abandonment, San Mateo county civic leaders headed by Goldman say the highway is still "very much alive."

DUMBARTON BAY SPAN PROFITABLE

Tolls Reach $149,679 For Year; Profit Is $2,573

BONDS BOUGHT

$212,500 of Securities Purchased and Retired

Although the year 1932 was marked by a decrease in automobile traffic generally, the Dumbarton Bridge Company was able to report a profit of $2,573.18, J. B. McCargar, president of the firm, reported Monday to the board of supervisors.

Tolls collected during the year amounted to $149,679.85.

Against this was charged repairs for the year of $10,263.68; expenses of labor and hire of agents and other costs incurred in the operation of the business, $84,263.46, and amortization and taxes, $52,579.53.

Up to and including January 2, 1933, the company had retired and purchased for the treasury a total of $212,500 par value of its bonds out of the original issue of $900,000. This steady reduction in the bond account of the company is of particular interest to the stockholders in that their position is improving through reduced interest and amortization charges, McCargar reports.

The actual cash value of the bridge and rights of way as of December 31, 1932, is given as $2,179,427.50.

CITY WATER BILLS WILL BE CHEAPER

New Schedule Wins City Council's Approval

EFFECTIVE APR. 1

City Manager Tells Reasons for Slash

Reduction of Redwood City's water rates, which are already the the council Monday night, following a recommendation made by City Manager E. A. Rolison two weeks ago.

The motion was made by Councilman Paul McCarthy and seconded by Councilman Charles G. Lambert. The slash is effective as of April 1.

In addition, a discount of 10 per cent will be applied to all bills paid on or before the 15th of the month.

The city manager's communication to the council, concerning the rate reduction, said, in part:

"After a brief review of the financial status of the water department, it has been determined that a reduction in rates, at least temporarily, is possible since under the charter no transfers can be made from the surplus earnings of this department for tax reduction or other purposes without first building up a cash reserve totaling a sum of approximately $75,000 which in my opinion is excessive and uneconomical.

"While there can be no definite guarantee as to the permanency of any reduction that may be proposed, it only seems reasonable that as long as present rates produce revenues somewhat in excess of the actual operating expenses of this department, that, rather than build up the excessive surplus required by the charter, adjustments should be made from time to time in order to avoid this uneconomical requirement. However, there can be no assurance that the next change may not be upward, due to the uncertainty of the cost of our future supply, which at this time cannot be definitely determined because of the necessity of developing new wells to replace those now in production that may have to be abandoned for excessive salt content or the lowering of the water table, together with the unknown future cost of Hetch-Hetchy water.

"In my opinion, however, a reduction in rates can be made that would somewhat simplify our present schedules by reducing the number of brackets from six to four and at the same time reduce the minimum charge for a 5-8 inch metered service from $1.25 to $1, the ultimate result being equivalent to an average general reduction of somewhere between 5 and 10 per cent, the maximum reduction being 20 per cent on the small consumer reflected in the minimum charge."

John Harkness, secretary of the Redwood City Civic Club, addressed the council and urged that the lower rates be granted.

The new rates apply only to consumers within the corporate limits of Redwood City.

No Weed Tax

Another step to relieve taxpayers was taken by the council last night when it voted to eliminate the weed abatement resolution this year. The resolution was offered by City Attorney Albert Mansfield, as is customary at this season.

Councilman Henry Beeger led the discussion by declaring that he thought the resolution, as desirable as its results would be, could be dispensed with this year.

The council gave final reading to the ordinance repealing the city's "little Volstead" act.

Acting on complaints that the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America and other organizations from out of town have been collecting old clothes and other things here, to the loss of local charities, the council decided to inform the organizations that they can solicit here no longer.

Instead, anything left over from local charities will be divided equally among the outside groups.

Having been informed by the manager of the chamber of commerce that the merchants' division was still strongly in favor of the $100 deposit required for new businesses coming into town, the council considered the matter closed.

The council authorized the assessor to assess the parochial school building of Mt. Carmel parish at $10,000, which would make the tax approximately $109. The educational character of the institution was taken into consideration in making the reduction in the assessment.

While there are no immediate profits anticipated in this undertaking indirectly both the city and the area served should benefit by this transaction and ultimately the city should realize a reasonable profit on the service rendered.

"Quite substantial yacht harbor improvements are being made also largely at the expense of the county relief bond issue. All of the buildings have been newly painted and roadways and parking areas are now being improved.

"The park department has also used some of this unemployed labor to a good advantage in the improvement of public parks and on grounds around our water works and corporation yard and other areas.

"The Hudson street bridge has been completed and this thoroughfare surfaced and opened to traffic.

"Fire alarm circuits and other equipment are being constantly improved in accordance with a definite program. Just now pneumatic tires are being substituted for hard rubber on some of this equipment.

Public Dump

"As a matter of convenience as well as an aid to health and sanitation a refuse dump has been provided for public use.

"The water department is developing a new well in hopes of increasing our local supply. A new reservoir having a capacity of some three and one-half million gallons and the laying of cast iron water mains aggregating an expenditure of some $40,000 has been completed, all of which will add materially to the efficiency of this department.

"A recent survey of traffic conditions has been made by the police department and a number of stop signs are now being installed to guard against future accidents.

"Plans are under way to get additional assistance from the highway commission for the improvement of a portion of El Camino Real and take care of storm water.

Insurance Distributed

"A study of city insurance has been made and a plan worked out that will distribute this business on a more equitable basis and at the same time provide more protection at a lower cost to the city. In addition to this, a study of insurance rates is being planned in an effort to reduce insurance rates generally.

"A study of the county's recent re-assessment for taxation purposes is also being made in an effort if possible to place our assessed valuation on a more equal basis.

"Practically all of the above has been accomplished by regular employes as a matter of general routine and with only a slight addition to our regular operating expenses.

"Next year it is hoped that money may be found for the purchase of the necessary materials for badly needed additional storm sewers and other permanent improvements, the necessary labor to be provided by the county relief bond issue."

Now you can always depend upon punctual meals

ELECTRIC RANGES obey orders

Simplified Cooking by ELECTRIC TIME CONTROL by ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROL ...SO SIMPLE ...SO EASY TO OPERATE

GONE is all the hurry and worry in cooking. No more need for rush to meet meal time with meals on time. You hate all the last minute rush that makes you nervous trying to do half a dozen things at one time.

Well, you can put an end to all this and still have punctual meals every meal time, every day. The electric range permits women to prepare meals ahead of time, a half day ahead and more, and then like a second maid in the kitchen the electric time and temperature controls take charge of the actual cooking.

Why is this wonderful convenience possible? It's because the electric range is educating women to cook an easier, simpler way, preparing oven meals that are at once more economical, tastier, and more healthful.

Bring this new certainty of cooking into your home with an electric range that obeys orders. Enjoy the freedom it will give, the convenience, and yes, even the economy that its simpler cooking method brings. Make your selection of an electric range at the nearest P. G. and E. office or your electric dealer's store. Prices this year for electric ranges are no more than those for any other good range and purchase terms are liberal.

Tax Holiday Effect Not Serious Locally

"While recent state legislation creating a 60-day moratorium on tax payments will cause us to deviate somewhat from our regular system of accounting and add considerable additional work to the collection department, it will not affect Redwood City's financial status as seriously as many other cities," said City Manager E. A. Rolison today.

"This is due to the fact that we will be able to substitute the revolving fund provided in the budget to take care of the period from July 1 to November 1 for tax payments that normally would be received in the second installment of taxes due and payable on or before April 20, a practice which has been in vogue since the advent of the present charter."

Redwood City Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, has been honored by the election of one of its members as an officer of the grand assembly, it was revealed today with the return of local members from the sessions of the grand assembly at San Jose over the week-end.

Miss Martha Cummings, past worthy advisor of Redwood City assembly, was chosen grand treasurer for 1933-34, continuing the list of grand officers which the local chapter has had each year. Miss Ramona Latreille of San Francisco, a Stanford University student, was elected grand worthy advisor.

Two Redwood City members who were honored with the presentation of the grand cross of color are Miss Louise Bendeich and Miss Lucille Christ. Miss Mary Bell was previously the only one to receive the honor.

Miss Gertrude Gibson acted as installing grand marshal at the installation ceremonies Saturday evening. Directing this part of the convention was Mrs. William J. Dusel, mother advisor of the Redwood City assembly.

A large number of DeMolays from Redwood City and Palo Alto were in attendance at the installation and at the grand ball which concluded the convention program Saturday evening. Also present were members of the advisory council of the local Rainbow chapter and of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges.
